This school is being conducted through IDEA's grant awarded by ICJI.

If your task force receives Byrne/Jag Funding, then the tuition is FREE! If you do not receive Byrne/Jag Funding, the tuition is $50 with the rest paid by the grant. This school only holds 20 students, so sign up NOW!

Rooms and per diem are the responsibility of the student.

IDEA's Moving Surveillance Training is the most comprehensive, hands-on, moving surveillance school in the country. This school was custom built to fill the huge void in today's law enforcement efforts. The ability to follow suspects covertly and collect evidence without being discovered is more challenging today than ever. This class, built by law enforcement professionals, is made to perfect the art of surveillance. Police need to follow   terror suspects, narcotics traffickers, child predators, and money launderers. Regardless of your job assignment you need to be able to follow targets without getting "burned". Using a combination of classroom and hands-on instruction, IDEA teaches surveillance theory and technique, and puts students on the street in realistic, team-based surveillance training exercises.

Students will gain crucial skills in:
- Following targets covertly
- Collecting evidence without being discovered
- Maintain a still, short-term or long-term surveillance
- Using disguised radio language to avoid detection
- Using aircraft as surveillance tool
- Urban and rural driving techniques
- Protection of an Undercover Agent

All seats in this class are on a first come, first serve basis, and seating is limited.
All registrations are non-refundable. The standard tuition cost of $450.00 will apply for those who register and fail to attend.
